

Infant Feeding Contract

I have received the infant feeding training from Catholic Charites.

I am aware of the following:

- I must offer infant meals when caring for infants unless the parent chooses to not participate.
- Breast milk or infant formula is required for both infant age groups.
- The 6-11 month age group is based on developmental readiness for all other food components.
- I only need to list the food components other than formula for 6-11 month olds when the child is being served those foods.
- I will work with individual parents to determine when a child is developmentally ready.
- I must document infant meals individually if I am caring for more than one infant.
- Parents may provide 1 meal component. I must provide the remaining components. (From 6 months forward (along with the child being developmentally ready), if a parent provides the formula/breastmilk AND food, the meal is not reimbursable.)
