One of our most popular summer offerings we are excited to have Debbie Barnett return to offer Cooking For Kids, this is a unique program that allows children a chance to learn safe, fun, and nutritious recipes. They will have a chance to explore various types of cooking, and different styles of food.

Program cost covers all the food in the program, and participants will bring home ideas they can cook for their families.

We ask if your child has any food allergies you let us know so we can adjust the program for everyone to have a safe and tasty time.

This year we are offering two-1-week sessions. You will only be able to attend both if we have openings in the Session 2 Classes. If you sign up for both sessions, you will be put on a wait list for the second session.
