WHAT WE LEARNED:

Chainsaw instruction via ZOOM is treacherous...

All kidding aside FCTEC learned that even though our programs are designed as hands on learning experiences, with the right staff and students, remote learning is possible. However, this model is not ideal for Career and Technical Education. Face to face training is important in all of our programs and extremely crucial where safety concerns come into play. The relationships and trust that are built through day to day training can't be completely replicated virtually.

NEW PROGRAMS & STAFF

Two New Programs, EMT & Law Enforcement were added, expanding our public safety career opportunities along with two new instructors. Our Exploratory satellite program at Mt Abram saw the addition of a new instructor in Chris Brinkman as well as an increase in student participation
